ENDOWMENT REPORT

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY

In August 2019, 23 Global Student Impact Fellows arrived in Sierra Leone, Africa, to conduct field work on projects designed to fight hunger and disease and increase global awareness of health crises. While their research and projects varied, the Lehigh students had a shared goal — sustainable impact.

Dear Alumni and Friends,

An institution cannot rise to great heights without a strong foundation. For Lehigh, a critical part of that foundation is the Tower Society.

The Tower Society was founded 30 years ago to recognize all who have supported Lehigh, including its endowment, with a current or deferred planned gift. Endowed funds, made possible by you and other generous benefactors, fuel life-changing scholarships, innovative academic programs, hands-on learning experiences, and research opportunities for incredibly talented students. Moreover, our endowment supports not only today's students, but generations yet to come. It is on this foundation that Lehigh's greatness continually builds.

But the Tower Society represents more than just financial strength. It is a community composed of individuals who care deeply about the future of Lehigh University and its students. We are passionate and dedicated, and our personal commitment is what truly lies at the heart of Lehigh's strength.

While we have not been able to gather in person this year as a society, I hope that, as you read this report, you will reflect on the impact you have had on Lehigh and take pride in the foundation you have helped to build.

Thank you for all you do for Lehigh.

Sincerely,

Mike Caruso '67
Chair, Tower Society

Dear Alumni and Friends,

The Endowment earned +0.7 percent for fiscal year 2020, net of all fees. This year has been a challenging environment for investing with global equity markets sharply declining 34 percent over 24 trading days only to be followed by a precipitous rally with equity markets surging 38 percent through fiscal year-end. With the increased level of market uncertainty, it was constructive to see the overall portfolio weathering the market volatility and end the fiscal year in positive territory.

Positive performance was generated across the absolute return, private equity and treasury/cash portfolios although offset by negative performance from our public equity portfolio. The portfolio benefited from both opportunistic and diversifying strategies, which were able to generate positive performance as volatility increased to historically high levels. Additionally, we were able to capitalize on technical selling by deploying capital at trough prices and repositioning the portfolio for a recovery across different asset classes.

The portfolio continues to maintain an overweight allocation to US, growth-oriented securities with an underweight allocation to cyclical sectors including financial services, energy, and materials. We remain cautious as we enter the new fiscal year at record-breaking levels in the equity markets and credit spreads that have tightened back to pre-March levels. We have continued to rebalance our equity portfolio down with positive performance and maintain an overweight allocation to liquid and defensive assets that will allow us to capitalize on any new periods of increased market volatility.

We maintain an asset allocation framework that provides flexibility to take advantage of opportunities across different asset classes. Our attention today has been focused on areas of the market less dependent on timing surrounding the eradication of COVID-19 and more on areas that will continue to benefit from structural innovation.

In a low interest-rate environment, we are cognizant of return compression and have sought out opportunities less correlated to the economic cycle with higher margins of safety and greater underlying collateral. As we may be entering a new paradigm where historical information could be less predictive in assessing underlying company performance or collateral protection, we believe flexibility and a willingness to adapt our portfolio are more important than ever.

Thank you for your ongoing support of the Lehigh endowment and the very important role it plays in advancing Lehigh's strategic priorities and programs.

The women's basketball team had a successful year and went all the way to the Patriot League Semifinals when their season ended. Had it not been for the COVID-19 pandemic, they would have continued to strive for a spot in the championship.

GO: THE CAMPAIGN FOR LEHIGH

AN UPDATE

Lehigh University forges students into leaders who are prepared to navigate unforeseen challenges and solve unexpected problems. The value of instilling students with this kind of nimble, resilient mindset is more apparent now than ever before, as our world faces a global pandemic and a rapidly changing social, economic, and political landscape.

As an institution, Lehigh embraces the same tenets it seeks to impart to its students: agility, problem-solving, and a relentless drive to take action and make an impact. Even as the university manages through difficult times, this approach allows us to make progress toward our ambitious goals to grow our intellectual footprint, evolve our campus, and continually enhance the learning and living experience that fuels student success.

How have we moved forward? Our new College of Health has launched. The Health, Science, and Technology (HST) building is well underway. We continue to enroll students with extraordinary talents, and we continue to provide them with a distinctive experience that will help ensure they develop into compassionate, capable leaders.

While the university will surely be changed as our world and the landscape of higher education shifts, we know Lehigh will emerge as an even stronger, more influential institution. We have this confidence because of you. Your generosity to the endowment put into place the unassailable resources we depend on, especially in these uncertain times. Thank you for your generosity and commitment.

One of the last beams put in place on the Health, Science, and Technology (HST) building was signed by more than 4,400 members of the Lehigh community in September 2020.

LET'S GO!

We invite you to share in our most recent accomplishments and milestone moments of GO: The Campaign for Lehigh:

The College of Health
With an emphasis on data science and innovation, Lehigh's unique college will train students to understand the factors that influence the health of populations — a critical skill set during the age of COVID-19. With a $5 million gift to fund a chair for Lehigh's new College of Health, Ellen and Vincent Forlenza '75 are investing in that college's future and seeking solutions for health care issues that affect populations around the country and the world. The Ellen and Vincent Forlenza '75 Chair in Health Innovation and Technology Endowed Fund will enable the college to recruit the very best talent in a fiercely competitive market.

Health, Science & Technology Building
Known as HST, the new facility will offer a cutting-edge collaborative environment where people from diverse disciplines can work together on complex research questions and will also provide a home for the new College of Health. With the building close to completion, more than 4,400 alumni, faculty, students, staff, and friends demonstrated their excitement and support by lending their signatures to a steel beam that was incorporated into the building's frame. The building is slated to open in 2021.

Financial Aid and Scholarships
Since the start of the campaign, which identifies financial aid as its top priority, 235 endowed scholarships have been established. Support for students is a key factor in recruiting and retaining ambitious and creative students for Lehigh. This is especially true as national demographics prompt greater competition for student talent and as the need for financial aid increases.

Endowment Perspective

When Asa Packer founded Lehigh University in 1865, he realized that a solid financial base was necessary if his vision was to transcend the generations. His $3 million initial endowment fund, Lehigh's first, is now one of the largest funds in Lehigh's $1.369 billion endowment. Packer's fund has been joined by almost 3,000 other endowments. Together, they advance Lehigh's strategic priorities and the programs about which you care so deeply.

Consider the ways in which endowment has an impact:

Endurance. The endowment is one of Lehigh's most powerful financial tools. Your support sustains the educational mission of the university and creates a legacy for generations to come.

Quality and Reputation. The effect of a gift to Lehigh's endowment, particularly one in support of financial aid and scholarship, ensures that the most talented students have access to a distinctive Lehigh education. This helps increase the quality of Lehigh's academic profile and reputation.

Prestige. Named endowed funds allow Lehigh to recognize the generosity of the donors who make them possible and also carry great honor for the beneficiaries who put their knowledge and expertise to work to expand our impact as a university.

Agility. When continuous resources are provided by endowment, annual budget dollars become available to pursue ideas and innovations, allowing Lehigh to remain competitive and thriving in today's rapidly changing world.

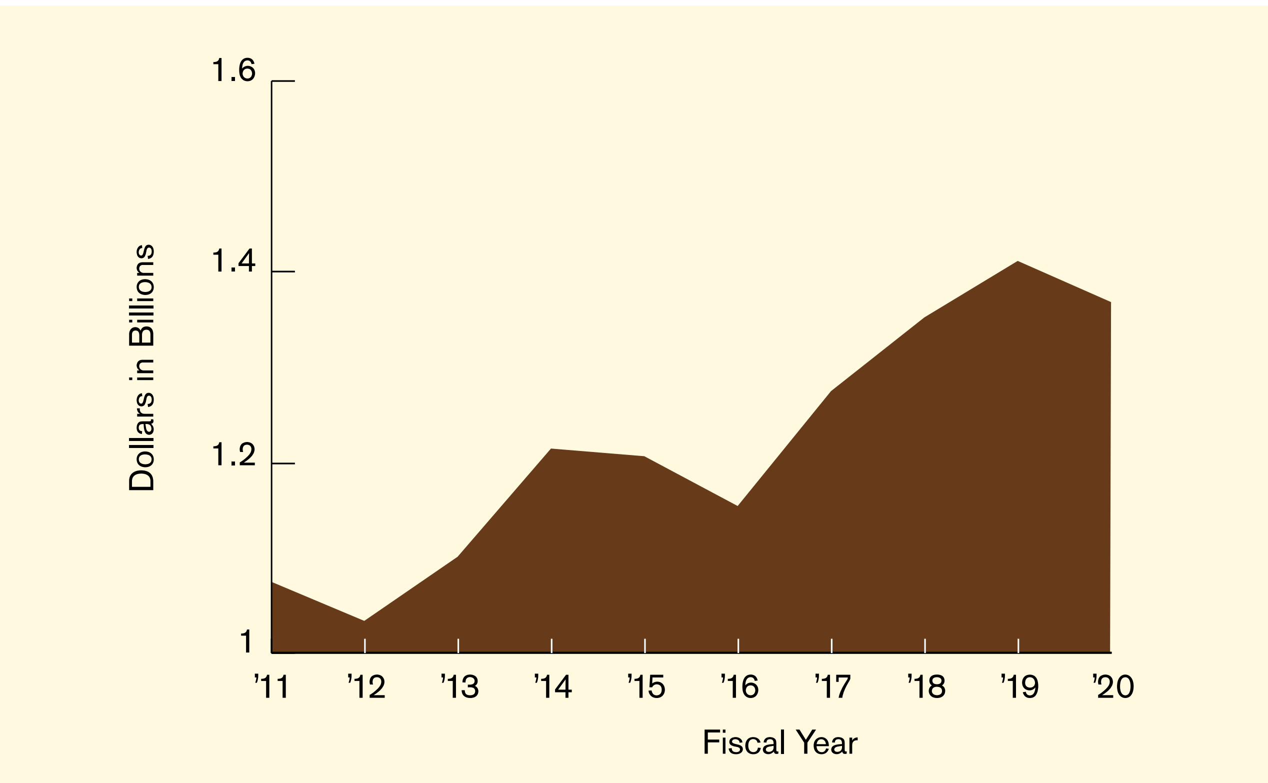
Students in Hannah Daily's Mechanical Engineering and Mechanics group research computational and experimental biomechanics of fracture fixation and bone healing. Their research emphasizes imaging-driven engineering approaches to clinical problems in orthopedics and collaborates with surgeon-investigators in health networks around the globe.

Value of the Endowment

Endowment Fund Market Value Growth History

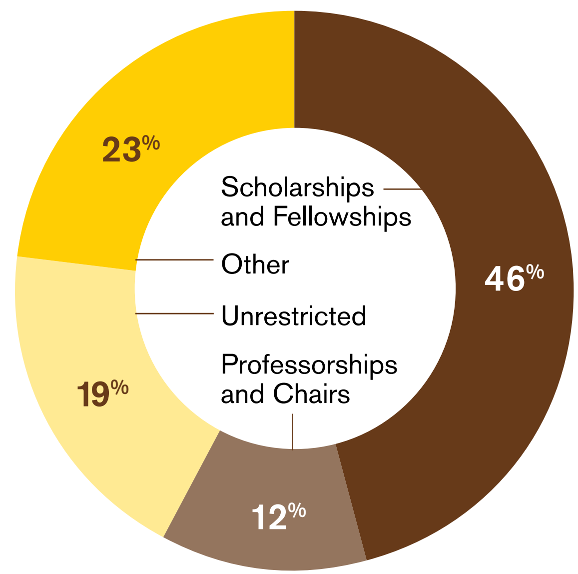
Fiscal year ending June 30, 2020

In the past ten years, the university's endowment experienced growth based on donor support and investment return net of operating distributions. During this period, the market value has increased from approximately $1.077 billion at June 30, 2011, to $1.369 billion at June 30, 2020. In fiscal year 2020, gifts to the endowment grew by 11 percent and 31 new funds were created.



Donor Restricted Endowment Funds

While the $68.7 million of distributed earnings from the university endowment must be used according to the specified purpose of each fund, the payout touches all areas of the university and demonstrates the ongoing commitment to financial aid with more than 45 percent of the university's donor restricted endowment designated for scholarships and fellowships. In fiscal year 2020, need-based financial aid was provided to more than 39 percent of undergraduate students, with an average institutional aid award of just over $40 thousand.



Endowment Overview

Fiscal year ending June 30, 2020

The university's endowment earned 0.7 percent for fiscal year 2020, net of all fees. The Policy Benchmark is a weighted average of market indexes that represent each asset class in the endowment's policy asset allocation.

Annualized Returns Percentages

PORTFOLIO	1 YR	3 YRS	5 YRS	7 YRS	10 YRS
Lehigh Portfolio	0.7	6.0	5.9	6.5	7.0
Benchmark Portfolio	4.2	6.7	6.6	7.7	8.7

Target Asset Allocation Percentages

ASSET CLASS	FISCAL YEAR 2020 RETURN	FISCAL YEAR 2020 TARGET ALLOCATION	COMMENTARY
Public Equity	-1.4	45	The Public Equity portfolio was well positioned from a geographic, sector, and style basis relative to its benchmark, the MSCI ACWI, with underperformance driven by negative external manager alpha.
Private Equity	4.8	20	The Private Equity portfolio was the largest contributor to the endowment's fiscal year performance on a dollar-weighted basis — with growth equity and venture capital posting the strongest returns.
Absolute Return	0.6	20	The Absolute Return portfolio provided stability during the market volatility experienced in the second half of the fiscal year. The portfolio's performance was led by our opportunistic credit and diversifying strategies, which took advantage of the volatility and widening credit spreads experienced in March 2020.
Real Estate	-4.6	5	The real estate portfolio's performance was driven by the "J-Curve" effect from new external manager commitments as well as conversative valuation markdowns in light of potential COVID-19 impacts on assets. With the exception of a few hotel and retail properties in the portfolio, underlying asset performance has been better than anticipated, particularly in industrial/logistic and multifamily assets.
Treasuries & Cash	5.7	10	The 10 Year Treasury declined during the fiscal year from 2.0 percent to 0.7 percent, which led to excess returns for fixed income relative to cash.

Endowment Management

Lehigh's Investment Office manages the day-to-day operations of the investment program. The office is under the fiduciary oversight of the Investment Subcommittee of the Board of Trustees and is led by the chief investment officer. In the management of the endowment, there are three primary objectives.

Financial Objective

The principal financial objective of the investment program is to preserve and, if possible, enhance the real purchasing power of the endowment principal in order to ensure the university's financial future. The endowment must strike a balance between the preservation of principal in real terms and support of the university's current operating needs.

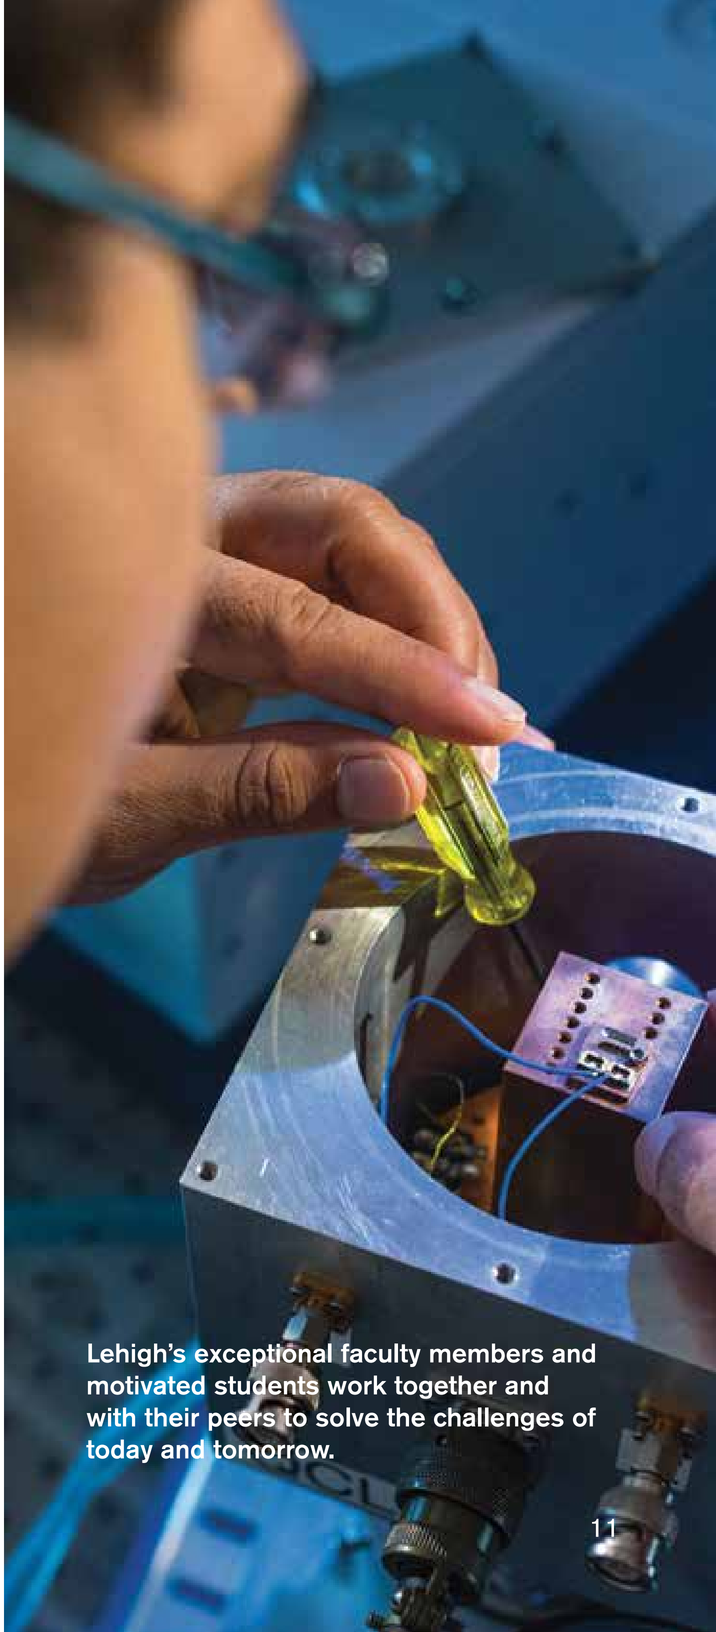
Investment Objective

In order to achieve the financial objectives of the investment program, the investment goal of the endowment is to generate a real return of 5 percent annualized (net of inflation) over the long run. The 5 percent real return goal is expected to allow the university to grow the principal of the endowment in order to support future generations' needs and to maintain its current spending objective, which supports near-term university operations. It is understood that the asset allocation of the endowment will be the primary driver of its performance overtime. The Finance Committee and Investment Subcommittee set the asset allocation policy that is expected to achieve the 5 percent real return investment objective. While the Finance Committee and Investment Subcommittee set the asset allocation policy, the Investment Office is responsible for the implementation of the policy and the day-to-day management of the endowment.

Spending Objective

The endowment spending policy provides for a spending amount based on 5 percent of the twelve quarter moving average market value of the endowment with a minimum increase of 0 percent and a maximum increase of 10 percent over the prior year's payout. The spending distribution from each endowment fund is used to support the purpose as specified in the endowment agreement between the donor and the university.

In October 2018, the Finance Committee approved a modification of the minimum and maximum increases of 0 percent and 10 percent to –2 percent and 5 percent, respectively. The university will transition to this new policy collar on or before fiscal year 2022.



Lehigh's exceptional faculty members and motivated students work together and with their peers to solve the challenges of today and tomorrow.

Rob Weisstuch ’85 ’19P and Faith Glazier ’87 ’19P:

SHARING A LOVE OF LEHIGH

Like many Lehigh stories, Rob Weisstuch ’85 ’19P and Faith Glazier’s ’87 ’19P begins with a romance. The Kappa Alpha fraternity brother and Martindale scholar met during Lehigh-Lafayette weekend in 1983 and married in 1991. Three daughters and two successful careers later, the couple have been sharing their love of Lehigh by ensuring that others have a similar experience through three endowments created to support students.

Faith came to Lehigh because she wanted to study business and was impressed with both the academic program and the professors she met. The generous financial aid package she received didn’t hurt, either. “It was a chance to go to a great school, and it was less expensive for my parents to send me there,” she said.

After graduating with her Bachelor of Science in 1987, she went on to earn an MBA from Harvard University in 1991. Faith is a principal in Deloitte Consulting with more than 25 years of experience providing strategy and operations consulting services to global life sciences organizations.

Rob, who came to Lehigh because of its engineering reputation, graduated with a Bachelor of Science in industrial engineering in 1985. He worked in media and strategic planning for years before changing his focus to consulting for educational nonprofits in areas such as STEM and music education.

Since 2009, Rob and Faith have endowed scholarships in three areas about which they’re passionate: Integrated Business and Engineering (IBE), which combines both their majors; the Martindale program that Faith and daughter Caroline ’19 participated in as students; and the new College of Health, a major focus of Faith’s work at Deloitte. To date, five students have benefited from their generosity through IBE scholarships, and many others have benefited from the Martindale endowment.

“Lehigh has played such a large role in our lives, both individually and together,” said Rob. “It was important for us to help other people have that opportunity.”

Their endowed scholarships, Faith noted, are a way of paying it forward. “Lehigh was a very formative experience in our lives, both academically and socially. Not only was it where we met, it also helped springboard our careers and opened doors for us to opportunities after graduation.”

Faith’s most memorable and important experience as a student was her involvement with the Martindale Center, which offered the opportunity to travel to Canada to do academic research and to be published. “It was such a unique experience for an undergrad, especially 30 years ago,” she said.

For Rob, it was his fraternity membership that brings back the fondest memories. “The industrial engineering program was great preparation, but my participation in Kappa Alpha had a lasting impact. I learned many life lessons and created lifelong friendships,” he said.

The couple enjoys coming back to campus to meet with students who benefit from their generosity at the annual scholarship dinners. But they miss the very active engagement they enjoyed as parents, when daughter Caroline was at Lehigh earning her Integrated Degree in Engineering, Arts, and Sciences.

“We’ve stayed pretty connected to the university,” Faith says, “but it strengthened over the four years Caroline was on campus. We expect that it will continue. The scholarships that we’ve endowed are in areas where we see opportunity based not just on our individual experiences, but also on the work that we do and areas that we feel are important for students going forward.”

Marcus Torres ’23 is a first-year recipient of the Faith Glazier '87 and Robert Weisstuch '85 Endowed Scholarship for Integrated Business and Engineering (IBE) students. The Bethpage, New York, native, who is concentrating in civil engineering, is treasurer of the Hispanic Engineering Club. He says the scholarship has helped him feel less stressed about his tuition placing a financial burden on his family.

Torres says he’s grateful to Weisstuch and Glazier.

“Lehigh has given me so many opportunities to succeed. I hope to do well in life and one day be able to donate to Lehigh.”

LU Makeathon is a competition hosted by the Baker Institute in which teams are challenged to solve problems relating to a theme. Within 24 hours, teams of 3-5 people must come up with a physical solution to a problem they have identified.

TOWER SOCIETY

30 YEARS of Generosity and Impact

Since its founding in 1990, the Tower Society has included some of Lehigh University's most iconic names and most generous benefactors. From a brainstorming meeting between Ferd Thun '56, Francis Figlear '64G, and Jim Swenson '59 — about how to recognize, honor, and thank those who provide philanthropic support — to the robust 3,535-name membership of today, the Tower Society continues to power the growth of Lehigh's endowment. That endowment has grown over three decades, from $244 million to $1.369 billion, through gifts and market performance.

Open to those who contribute to the endowment with a current or planned gift, the Tower Society impacts Lehigh with resources for scholarships that allow the best and brightest students to access a Lehigh education, funds to establish endowed chairs that help recruit and retain the most distinguished faculty members, and assets that provide for cutting-edge research and new ways of teaching.

Thank you, Tower Society, for 30 years of generosity and impact and for carrying on the powerful legacy set by Asa Packer himself.

Tower Society Members

Tower Society members provide for the university endowment with a confirmed bequest, outright gift, or through participation in the life income program. Membership is perpetual.
